Tom Oels v. John Carr, Alaska Voters Coalition

Complaint (Remand) 25-02-CD

David Long v. John Carr, Alaska Voters Coalition

Presented By:

Kim Stone, Campaign Disclosure Coordinator

TO: APOC Commissioners
DATE: December 29, 2025
FROM: Kim Stone, Campaign Disclosure Coordinator
SUBJECT: Supplemental Staff Report on Remand, Complaint 24-13-CD,
Tom Oels v. John Richard Carr / Alaska Voter Coalition

Supplemental Staff Report on Remand

At its September 10, 2025 meeting, the Alaska Public Offices Commission (Commission) considered allegations filed against John Carr and the Alaska Voter Coalition (collectively, AVC) in complaint 24-13-CD.¹ The Commission remanded two issues for a supplemental staff report: (1) whether APOC should assess a penalty against AVC and if so, in what amount, for failure to report contribution and expenditures on its year-end report, and (2) whether Alaska campaign disclosure law requires expenditure groups to “report both the name of the true source and the amount each true source put toward the ultimate total that intermediary contributed to the expenditure group.”²

(1) Penalty assessment recommendation for AVC’s incomplete year-end report

The Commission found in its September 22, 2025 Order that AVC failed to include, on its year-end report, a $3,000 contribution (received from Keep It Alaska on December 12, 2024) and a $3,000 expenditure (made to Red Dirt Campaigns). APOC staff recommended this finding of violation but did not recommend a penalty because AVC’s year-end report had not yet come due when complaint was filed. In response to the Commission’s September 22, 2025 Order to evaluate penalty assessment, APOC staff now recommends the following assessment and mitigation pursuant to 2 AAC 50.855 and 2 AAC 50.865:

Violation	Dates of Violation	Total Days	Maximum Penalty
Incomplete year-end reports ($50)	2/18/25-09/22/25	216	$10,800
		Total	$10,800

In calculating the statutory penalty for the incomplete year-end report, APOC staff follows the Commission’s application of statutory mitigation factors applied to AVC’s other violations:³ For failing to include a $3,000 contribution and a $3,000 expenditure on its year-end report,⁴ the civil penalty should be reduced by 50% based upon the first election cycle mitigator, to $5,400. This amount does not exceed twice the value of the $6,000 in transactions that were not reported on the year-end report.⁵ However, APOC additionally finds that unique circumstances justify lowering the penalty, in that AVC already has been assessed $1,727.50 for violations stemming in part from these transactions. APOC staff therefore recommends reducing the penalty by 99% to $54.

(2) Whether application of AS 15.13.110(k) and 2 AAC 50.270(d) requires the amount of each contribution in true source reporting

The Commission in its September 22, 2025 also remanded for further briefing on “the narrow issue of how to interpret AS 15.13.110(k)” because “this issue was not thoroughly briefed by the parties” and “it is not clear from the record” how staff arrived at its interpretation that AS 15.13.110(k) requires the expenditure group to report both the name of the true source and the amount each true source puts toward the ultimate total the intermediary contributed to the expenditure group.⁶

⁴ AS 15.13.040(b)(2) and (3).

⁵ 2 AAC 50.865(b)(5).

As a starting point, the Commission and APOC staff agree Alaska Statute 15.13.110(k) applies and required AVC to “report the true source, and all intermediaries” of the $3,000 contribution.

From there, APOC looks to 2 AAC 50.270(d), which provides that “[a] person required to report under AS 15.13.110(k)” must include in their report for “all true sources and intermediaries . . . the following information”:

- (1) the date of each contribution;
- (2) the amount of each contribution;
- (3) the full name of the contributor;
- (4) a description of item or services contributed, if necessary; and
- (5) the full name of all intermediaries, if any, within the meaning of “true sources” under AS 15.13.400.⁷

In response to the Commission’s first question on remand:⁸ (1) APOC staff respectfully responds that its interpretation is one of plain meaning: 2 AAC 50.270(d) mandates a person “required to report under AS 15.13.110(k)” – including AVC – to include the amount of each contribution for all true sources and intermediaries. To interpret AS 15.13.110(k) and 2 AAC 50.270(d) as requiring only disclosure of the true source’s name would be counter to the plain language of the regulation. Additionally, in 2021 the agency began work on revising and adopting regulations to implement and clarify the new reporting requirements enacted through 2020’s ballot measure 2. APOC Staff presented its preliminary revisions at the June 9-10, 2021 meeting. One of the suggested revisions was to implement section (d) of 2 AAC 50.270 to detail the information that persons must disclose when receiving a contribution triggering reporting under AS 15.13.110(k).⁹

In response to the Commission’s second and third questions on remand: (2) APOC staff is unaware of any prior Commission decisions suggesting that the statute and regulation, read together, “only requires disclosure of the true source’s name.” However, in a prior and still pending complaint matter, an issue was raised that related to the import functionality for true source information within APOC’s Online Filing System.¹⁰ In investigating that matter, staff found that the filing system’s 24-hour true source report form enabled the receiving group/entity to identify their contributions’ true sources by name and date received. This has since been changed to require information detailed in 2 AAC 50.270(d). (3) To APOC staff’s knowledge, neither the public nor a respondent has ever questioned whether persons reporting true sources under AS 15.13.110(k) need not report the amount of each contribution under the mandates of 2 AAC 50.270(d). APOC staff has, however, generally directed the public to the regulation itself on the related question of whether the individual contribution thresholds apply cumulatively or to each donor in its requirement to include the amount of each contribution.¹¹

In any event, for all the above reasons, APOC staff believes campaign disclosure law requires expenditure groups to report both the name of the true source and the amount each true source put toward the ultimate total that intermediary contributed to the expenditure group. However, although Respondents did not report the individual amount contributed by each true source as the statute and regulation require, APOC staff nonetheless recommends no penalty be imposed for the Respondents’ failure to include this information based upon the above-described technical issues within APOC’s Online Filing System that existed at the time Respondent filed its 24-hour true source report.

Hi John,

Hi John,

Okay, we'll put the disclaimer in both the image and text script to cover all bases.

I got my answer on the party donation question when I looked through the training booklet. It states that there are no restrictions on party contributions to an IE Group. Thanks for following up though.

I do have one more question: When we receive a donation from another group and are recording the individual donors behind the donation, does the 24-hour report apply to the donation if all of the individual donations are below $2,000 but the collective passed on donation is over $2,000 when all of the individual donors are added up together? To be clear, no individual has given us a donation above $2,000, but a few dozen individuals have given to another group that is being passed on to us.

Thanks!

Also, while I was away from my desk you left a message with one of my colleagues, Ben Wolfe, who relayed to me a question regarding if Keep it Alaska would have to report any donations from the Republican Party. I just wanted to ensure that this is, indeed, your question before looking into it.

SUBJECT: Supplemental Staff Report on Remand, Complaint 25-02-CD,
David Long v. John Richard Carr / Alaska Voter Coalition

Supplemental Staff Report on Remand

At its September 10, 2025 meeting, the Alaska Public Offices Commission (Commission) considered allegations filed against John Carr and the Alaska Voter Coalition (collectively, AVC) in complaint 25-02-CD.¹ The Commission remanded two issues for a supplemental staff report: (1) whether APOC should assess a penalty against AVC and if so, in what amount, for failure to report contribution and expenditures on its year-end report, and (2) whether Alaska campaign disclosure law requires expenditure groups to “report both the name of the true source and the amount each true source put toward the ultimate total that intermediary contributed to the expenditure group.”²

(1) Penalty assessment recommendation for AVC’s incomplete year-end report

The Commission found in its September 22, 2025 Order that AVC failed to include, on its year-end report, a $3,000 contribution (received from Keep It Alaska on December 12, 2024) and a $3,000 expenditure (made to Red Dirt Campaigns). APOC staff recommended this finding of violation but did not recommend a penalty because AVC’s year-end report had not yet come due when complaint was filed. In response to the Commission’s September 22, 2025 Order to evaluate penalty assessment, APOC staff now

¹ Complaint, <https://aws.state.ak.us/ApocReports/Paper/Download.aspx?ID=26518>.

² Order Resolving Complaint in Part and Remanding Two Issues to Staff, <https://aws.state.ak.us/ApocReports/Paper/Download.aspx?ID=27246>, p. 13 (emphasis in original).

recommends the following assessment and mitigation pursuant to 2 AAC 50.855 and 2 AAC 50.865:

Violation	Dates of Violation	Total Days	Maximum Penalty
Incomplete year-end reports ($50)	2/18/25-09/22/25	216	$10,800
		Total	$10,800

In calculating the statutory penalty for the incomplete year-end report, APOC staff follows the Commission’s application of statutory mitigation factors applied to AVC’s other violations:³ For failing to include a $3,000 contribution and a $3,000 expenditure on its year-end report,⁴ the civil penalty should be reduced by 50% based upon the first election cycle mitigator, to $5,400. This amount does not exceed twice the value of the $6,000 in transactions that were not reported on the year-end report.⁵ However, APOC additionally finds that unique circumstances justify lowering the penalty, in that AVC already has been assessed $1,727.50 for violations stemming in part from these transactions. APOC staff therefore recommends reducing the penalty by 99% to $54. APOC staff notes this penalty was imposed for the same violation in 24-13-CD Oels v. Carr / AVC and need not be paid again in this matter.

(2) Whether application of AS 15.13.110(k) and 2 AAC 50.270(d) requires the amount of each contribution in true source reporting

The Commission in its September 22, 2025 also remanded for further briefing on “the narrow issue of how to interpret AS 15.13.110(k)” because “this issue was not thoroughly briefed by the parties” and “it is not clear from the record” how staff arrived at its interpretation that AS 15.13.110(k) requires the expenditure group to report both the name of the true source and the amount each true source puts toward the ultimate total the intermediary contributed to the expenditure group.⁶

As a starting point, the Commission and APOC staff agree Alaska Statute 15.13.110(k) applies and required AVC to “report the true source, and all intermediaries” of the $3,000 contribution.

From there, APOC looks to 2 AAC 50.270(d), which provides that “[a] person required to report under AS 15.13.110(k)” must include in their report for “all true sources and intermediaries . . . the following information”:

- (1) the date of each contribution;
- (2) the amount of each contribution;
- (3) the full name of the contributor;
- (4) a description of item or services contributed, if necessary; and
- (5) the full name of all intermediaries, if any, within the meaning of “true sources” under AS 15.13.400.⁷

In response to the Commission’s first question on remand:⁸ (1) APOC staff respectfully responds that its interpretation is one of plain meaning: 2 AAC 50.270(d) mandates a person “required to report under AS 15.13.110(k)” – including AVC – to include the amount of each contribution for all true sources and intermediaries. To interpret AS 15.13.110(k) and 2 AAC 50.270(d) as requiring only disclosure of the true source’s name would be counter to the plain language of the regulation. Additionally, in 2021 the agency began work on revising and adopting regulations to implement and clarify the new reporting requirements enacted through 2020’s ballot measure 2. APOC Staff presented its preliminary revisions at the June 9-10, 2021 meeting. One of the suggested revisions was to implement section (d) of 2 AAC 50.270 to detail the information that persons must disclose when receiving a contribution triggering reporting under AS 15.13.110(k).⁹

In response to the Commission’s second and third questions on remand: (2) APOC staff is unaware of any prior Commission decisions suggesting that the statute and regulation, read together, “only requires disclosure of the true source’s name.” However, in a prior and still pending complaint matter, an issue was raised that related to the import functionality for true source information within APOC’s Online Filing System.¹⁰ In investigating that matter, staff found that the filing system’s 24-hour true source report form enabled the receiving group/entity to identify their contributions’ true sources by name and date received. This has since been changed to require information detailed in 2 AAC 50.270(d). (3) To APOC staff’s knowledge, neither the public nor a respondent has ever questioned whether persons reporting true sources under AS 15.13.110(k) need not report the amount of each contribution under the mandates of 2 AAC 50.270(d). APOC staff has, however, generally directed the public to the regulation itself on the related question of whether the individual contribution thresholds apply cumulatively or to each donor in its requirement to include the amount of each contribution.¹¹

In any event, for all the above reasons, APOC staff believes campaign disclosure law requires expenditure groups to report both the name of the true source and the amount each true source put toward the ultimate total that intermediary contributed to the expenditure group. However, although Respondents did not report the individual amount contributed by each true source as the statute and regulation require, APOC staff nonetheless recommends no penalty be imposed for the Respondents’ failure to include this information based upon the above-described technical issues within APOC’s Online Filing System that existed at the time Respondent filed its 24-hour true source report.

Subject: Re: Your call earlier to APOC (Keep it Alaska)

Hi John,

Hi John,

Okay, we'll put the disclaimer in both the image and text script to cover all bases.

I got my answer on the party donation question when I looked through the training booklet. It states that there are no restrictions on party contributions to an IE Group. Thanks for following up though.

I do have one more question: When we receive a donation from another group and are recording the individual donors behind the donation, does the 24-hour report apply to the donation if all of the individual donations are below $2,000 but the collective passed on donation is over $2,000 when all of the individual donors are added up together? To be clear, no individual has given us a donation above $2,000, but a few dozen individuals have given to another group that is being passed on to us.

Thanks!

- Joel

Let me make one slight caveat/suggestion to what I discussed with you on the phone. I conferred with my colleagues who suggested that if both the text and the image are standing alone, it would be best practice to place the disclaimer on both the image and the text.

Also, while I was away from my desk you left a message with one of my colleagues, Ben Wolfe, who relayed to me a question regarding if Keep it Alaska would have to report any donations from the Republican Party. I just wanted to ensure that this is, indeed, your question before looking into it.
